

What are the warning signs of abuse?

- ❖ The person may say that she is being harmed or he is afraid of someone
- ❖ Bruises and skin tears
- ❖ Black eyes
- ❖ Broken bones
- ❖ Burns or cuts
- ❖ Internal injuries
- ❖ Infections
- ❖ Changes in mental functioning or behavior (such as increased agitation, combativeness, depression or confusion)
- ❖ Injuries that are unexplained or are not consistent with the explanation given.

What are the warning signs of neglect?

- ❖ Dehydration, weight loss and malnutrition
- ❖ Pressure sores, poor hygiene
- ❖ Depression, confusion or other changes in mental functioning
- ❖ Absence of needed medical equipment or prostheses
- ❖ Repeated falls
- ❖ Incontinence, isolation.

What are the warning signs of financial exploitation?

- ❖ The person may say something like, “I don’t know anything about it, my son/daughter/ friend handles all my business”
- ❖ Bills go unpaid
- ❖ The person does not have access to their own money
- ❖ The person is asked to sign documents but does not know what they are
- ❖ Changes are made in the will
- ❖ Assets are transferred or sold
- ❖ The person is taken to the bank to make account withdrawals
- ❖ Personal property, like cash, checks, credit cards, jewelry, furniture, etc., is missing.

ADA3 (3-12)

This information is available in alternative formats to individuals with disabilities by calling 651-431-2500 or 800-882-6262. TTY users can call through Minnesota Relay at 800-627-3529. For Speech-to-Speech, call 877-627-3848. For additional assistance with legal rights and protections for equal access to human services programs, contact your agency’s ADA coordinator.

For serious or immediate danger, call 911.

DHS-2754-ENG 1-12

Help protect people who are frail or vulnerable

TAKE ACTION
CALL AND REPORT

1-800-333-2433

Vulnerable adults need your help

- You notice that your elderly friend Gladys no longer has money for personal things. Her daughter has taken control of her check book, and Gladys doesn't know what happens to her Social Security check.
- You come to visit your dad, and you notice that there's no food in the house, he's unkempt, and you're worried that he's not taking his medications.

What should you do?

You need to report these types of cases so that these vulnerable adults can get the protection and safety they need.

Vulnerable adults have an impaired ability to provide for their own needs and protect themselves from harm. The law can protect and assist them.

Many vulnerable adults are reluctant to report, and when asked about it directly they may even deny that harm occurred. That's why it's so important for family members, friends, physicians, social workers and others to be aware of abuse, neglect and exploitation and report if you suspect something is going on.

If you are a mandated reporter under the law, you MUST report suspected harm.

Who is at risk?

People who depend on others for care or assistance in daily living have a higher risk of being harmed. Some people have a higher risk of harm by simply being elderly, frail or disabled.

Harm can occur anywhere by anyone

Abuse, neglect and exploitation can occur anywhere, from a person's own home to a nursing home, from an assisted living facility to an adult day program.

Abusers include spouses, children, staff, as well as "self." Vulnerable adults may no longer be able to care for themselves, and so are in danger of "self-neglect." By calling the Common Entry Point, you can help the vulnerable person get much needed assistance.

For more information about the law, reporting maltreatment of a vulnerable adult, or Adult Protective Services, please call your local county social services agency or the Minnesota Department of Human Services Adult Protective Services Unit at 651-431-2609.

Call to report abuse, neglect or exploitation of a vulnerable person

If there is immediate danger to the vulnerable adult, call 911 immediately. If you suspect abuse, neglect or financial exploitation, you should call your county's designated "Common Entry Point." The Common Entry Point receives all reports of known or suspected maltreatment and works with appropriate authorities.

The phone line is available 24 hours a day/ 7 days a week, so reports can be taken immediately.

To find your county's Common Entry Point, please call:
Senior LinkAge Line® at 1-800-333-2433.

Other important numbers to know:

- ❖ Immediate or serious danger, call 911
- ❖ The State Office of Ombudsman for Long Term Care 651-431-2555 or
toll free at 800-657-3591
- ❖ Tubman Elder Care and Rights Center
651-789-6750
- ❖ Senior LinkAge Line®
1-800-333-2433
- ❖ The State Office of Ombudsman for Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities
651-757-1800